BOSTON, October 19, 1880.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business in your line and advise others to employ you. Thanksgiving Song.

Ho! Sturdy Farmers, one and all,
With wives and lads in tow,
We're driving Shoddy to the mill—
Will you the glory share?

This age of shams in which we stand,
Should undergo repair,
For buff cash lay in rye straw hay,
No righteous judgment spare

We'll patronize the honest men,
Who deal upon the square—
Buy once, twice, thrice and buy again,
Each other's burdens bear

Let shoddy dealers hide their names,
And for a flight prepare—
"To live the truth the devil shames,"
May we the devil dare

Ho! farmers toiling hard to live,
Content with rugged fare
Good wheat or buff, you needn't give,
And we will tell you where—

OUR LAST SHOT.

Read this and we will let you rest until next year

We firmly believe that we have convinced the public that

The New Hub Range,
The Hub Parlor and
The Florence Favorite Oil Stove

LEAD THE MARKET,

We are led to believe this from the fact that in spite of the determined opposition of nearly all the dealers in town our sales have more than doubled during the past year. The improvements, convenience and high finish of these goods are appreciated

We are constantly taking out stoves of the best kinds sold by others and

REPLACING THEM WITH HUBS

OUR AIM in the future will be to give our patrons the very best goods manufactured as fast as they are put upon the market, and we believe in this we will be benefitted by their support.

Thanking you for past favors and hoping that we shall continue to receive the benefit of your patronage we wish you

BEYOND THE RIVER

Away Across the Mississippi is Held a Convincing Conversation.

"I tell you sir, that they are one of the neatest combinations ever produced and my experience of that sort of thing has been wide enough, to entitle my judgment to some respect"

"Oh, I don't know" responded the first speaker's friend, with a little yawn, as though he didn't take much interest in the subject, "I have never been able to see much difference in those things They are all pretty nearly the same size, and made of about the same stuff"

The talk, of which the foregoing is a fragment, took place in Gallatin, Missouri not long ago, in the sanctum office of Dr. M. P. Flowers, one of the leading physicians of the State, who followed up the vein in which he had introduced it substantially in these words

"Nonsense, that is the remarks of a boy, or rather of a man who either doesn't know or doesn't care what he says Those things, as you call them, are just as different as the moon is from green cheese Now, liniments, lotions and ointments are very good in most cases for the relief of pain or inflammation But, in the first place they are one can They suit the hands and the linen besides being always out of reach when they are most wanted"

"Well, my dear Doctor," sighed the traveler from the North, "what would you have? This is a wretched world anyhow, and nothing is ever at hand when it is wanted You can't suggest anything——"

"Yes, I can," broke in the Doctor, thumping the table with his fist, "I can suggest BENSON'S CALCINE POROUS PLASTER I have tried it on my patients, and I have tried it on myself for an attack of Pneumonia, and in all cases relief has followed in from three to forty-eight hours The old plasters are stage coaches—the Capcine is a telegraphic dispatch For instance, in cases of Neuralgia Muscular Rheumatism, Lumbago, retarded action of the Kidneys and——"

"I'll give it up, Doctor, and in case of need I'll buy Benson's" and the traveler, pleasantly

In the centre of the genuine is cut the word CAPCINE

ORGANIZING FOR WORK.

Our despatches this morning contain an account of the assembling and organization of the Sixty-First Legislature of Maine The election of our highly esteemed fellow-citizen, Hon. John L Cutler, as President of the Senate,is a merited recognition of the many sterling qualities that eminently fit him for the efficient and faithful discharge of the duties of his important office Mr Cutler is one of Bangor's leading lumber merchants, and this manifestation of the trust imposed in him by the State at large will be exceedingly gratifying to a host of friends in his native county.

Speaking of his nomination the Kennebec Journal, of the third instant, says Hon John L Cutler, of Bangor, nominated last evening for President of the Senate and who will be elected to that position to day is one of the sterling citizens of the Queen City of the East He was born in Exeter, educated in the common schools, and is a lumber merchant and manufacturer He was a member of the House in 1878 and again in 1880 He proved himself an able legislator and won the esteem of all who became acquainted with him He is a genial, true man, of excellent presence and good address, and will be a dignified and capable presiding officer of the Senate

In the election of Hon J Manchester Haynes the House has secured a Speaker who brings to the chair most valuable experience, having served with marked ability in both branches of the Legislature—being President of the Senate in 1879—and one who will perform the duties of presiding officer with intelligence, dignity and impartiality

At a general caucus of the Republicans last evening, our distinguished U S Senator Hon Wm P Frye, was, on motion of Mr Cutler, unanimously renominated Of the State officers Secretary of State Smith, Treasurer Holbrook, Attorney General Cleaves and Adjutant General Beal were renominated, all of whom have been efficient officers Members of the Executive Council were also nominated, including one of Bangor s prominent and respected citizens Hon S C Hatch, whose long public career and familiarity with all the departments of the State government, will make him a most valuable advisor

Gov Robie will deliver his inaugural address this morning, and the full text will appear in the WHIG Friday

There are indications that small pox may again cause some uneasiness before the winter is over Already it is raging in Baltimore and several cases are affracting notice in several other localities The National Board of Health has been informed by the United States Consul at St Helena that an American bark left that port recently for New Bedford Mass, with a number of malignant cases of small pox on board Advices from Cape Town to the Board state that during the past two months 9 000 people of that port have been affected with mall pox, of which number 2 400 died The further statement is made that all efforts to suppress the ravages of the disease proved unavailing Last winter and the previous winter the breaking out of small pox in Chicago and many other cities of the West was due to importation—and the National Board of Health, which has been struggling for existence, may this winter show whether its efficiency is really valuable in keeping the country at large free from this pest

The statistics for shipbuilding in Maine for the past year, which are given on the first page, are decidedly encouraging to those who are looking for a revival of this important industry the total tonnage built being about twice that for 1879, and shows a decided increase over last year The prospect for the coming year is for a continuation of the prosperity, several large contracts having already been made

In one of the large Chicago shops the other evening the electric lights suddenly went out and in looking under the dynamo for the cause, a large rat was seen with one leg raised as if about to take another step motionless The rat was dead and rooted to the spot He had leaped or stepped first on one of the copper conductors underneath the brush, and in stepping on the other closed the current so that it passed through his body, killing it instantly The machinery was stopped, the rat taken off, and then everything was all right again

A blatherskite and an unmitigated demagogue" is the picture que and comprehensive description of the character of the Hon Mr Voorhees given by the Charleston News and Courier in response to the remark by another Southern paper that he was "a man whom every Southerner must perforce admire" A marked difference of opinion, surely

There was a funny scene in the House during the session Tuesday afternoon The first bill on the Speaker's table was to amend the charter of a street railroad company in Washington This bill had come back from the Senate with an exceedingly important amendment, but the House was in a mood to do business, and was on the point of concurring in the Senate amendment, when Neal, of Ohio, who was seated in a barber's chair in one of the cloak rooms, heard what was going on. He sprang from the chair, wiping the lather from his face with a towel, and, forgetting his coat, rushed into the area, demanding the Speaker's attention When he had done this he ran back for his coat, which he pulled on as he hurriedly came again to the front, minus collar and necktie. He was embarrassed but in dead earnest, and for once at least commanded attention of the House —Wash. Cor. Boston Journal.

It is stated that Gov-elect Butler has finished his inaugural address, and that it will be nearly twice as long as any Governor's address in recent years.

An exchange reminds ex-Senator McDonald and Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, that ex-Governor Hendricks has the gangrene in his foot and not in his head, and that he is recovering.

Mr. Frank Duffy, a well known Democratic ward politician of New York, was arrested for being intoxicated and creating a disturbance at a very early hour in the morning. When brought before the Court he demanded: "Has not a Democrat and an American citizen a right to get drunk occasionally?" "Yes," replied the Justice, "but not to create a disturbance." The limitation is worthy of attention.

SENATOR BECK ILLUSTRATES CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

[Washington Correspondence Cleveland Leader]

While the debate on the Civil Service Reform bill was in progress, Mr. Beck, who occasionally says a bright thing, relieved the monotony by the following pretty comment on the bill in hand Senator Gorman, of Maryland, was in the chair, and at the time the venerable Captain Bassett, assistant sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, and who for a score of years was captain-general of the Senate's pages, was leaning over to receive some instructions from him as presiding officer. Senator Beck was hungry and thirsty and wanted Senator Voorhees to go down to the restaurant with him for refreshments The Indiana Senator was a little tardy in responding, when Mr. Beck said "Oh come on Voorhees, never mind this Civil Service reform talk, it's all humbug What do we want with it? We have good enough Civil Service reform now Look at Gorman sitting in that chair, presiding over the Senate, and he used to be a page running around this floor, and look at old Bassett bowing and scraping to him, when he used to find him around by the ear Ain't that Civil Service reform enough? Come on, now." Mr Beck's argument was convincing Mr Voorhees yielded without a word and the two went down stairs and over Kentuck's famous and favorite bourbon doomed Civil Service reform

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF GAMBETTA

Leon Michel Gambetta was the son of a Genoese grocer born at Cahors on the 2d of Apr l, 1838 At the age of eight he lost the sight of one eye by an accident while watching a cutler at his work He studied at the town Lycee where he soon attracted attention for his great memory and taste for philosophy and politics In 1857 he studied law at Paris, and was one of the leading spirits among the students of the Latin Quarter In 1860 he received his license to plead His boldness in attacking the government of Louis Napoleon when he was defending Delescluse, editor of the Reveil, made him famous His speech caused an immense st r ng France, and he was received with rivers at Lille, and Toulouse, where he went soon after to defend other journalists for l he offences

At the election of 1869 he was chosen for Belleville and Marseilles, and decided to sit for the latter city His first appearance in the legislative body was to protest against the arrest of Rochefort for animadverting on the acquittal of Prince Pierre Bonaparte and on April 5 1870 he delivered the most remarkable speeches he ever made On Aug 23d he spoke against going to war with Germany

On the fall of the empire and the consequent formation of the government of the National Defence in September 1870, he was nominated Minister of the Interior, and soon showed that he possessed administrative powers of a high order When a serious misunderstanding took place between the Delegate Government at Tours and the National Defence Committee in Paris regarding the contemplated election of deputies, Gambetta was selected by his colleagues to proceed to the former city and explain the position of affairs in the capital. Accordingly he left Paris on Oct 7 1870, in a balloon named the Armand Barbes, accompanied by a secretary and an aeronaut, passed safely over the Prussian lines, and reached Rouen in the evening.

Proceeding without loss of time to Tours, he there assumed the direction, and for some months was virtually the Dictator of all those provinces of France which were free from the German invaders He urged the people to continue resistance raised the army of the Loire, and after the Delegate government had been obliged to remove to Bordeaux he issued a proclamation advocating war a outrance, and resistance even to complete exhaustion

On Feb 6th, 1871 members of the Paris government arrived at Bordeaux, bringing with them a decree signed by all the members of the government, which annulled that of Gambetta by which certain classes of electors were disqualified as candidates for the Assembly. On this Gambetta resigned and withdrew from the government He lived for a time in seclusion in Spain, but the election of Feb 8th, 1871 gave abundant proof of his undiminished popularity

He was chosen to represent nine different departments and at the supplementary elections in July he was returned by three other constituencies He selected Paris and taking his seat in the Chamber among the Extreme Left was at once chosen President of the Republican Union During the parliamentary vacations of 1871, 72 and '73 Gambetta delivered a series of speeches in various provincial centres—speeches which did much to win the peasantry to the support of the Republic

The most important incidents in Gambetta's public life after this period were the part he took in promoting the transition from the Provisional Republic of 1871 to the quasi definitive Republic—the Septennate—of February, 1875, and again, in promoting the transition from this to the definitive Republic of February, 1879 The last four years of Gambetta's life may be briefly summarized He lent earnest support to the plenary amnesty bill, which in June, 1881, was carried by a vote of 333 to 140, after an eloquent speech by the President of the Chamber, the first oration delivered by him from the tribune of the Palace Bourbon after the revolution of 1870

Gambetta then undertook his cherished electoral reform of Scrutin de Liste, in which the election of deputies by arrondissements was to be abolished and candidates should stand for departments, each candidates to be selected by a nominating board The bill was rejected by the Chamber, June 9, 1881, by a vote of 148 to 114 and in the August elections the people declared themselves against the measure Gambetta himself narrowly escaped defeat in his own Belleville constituency A new ministry was formed Nov. 14, 1881, and Gambetta took office as Premier and gazetted a cabinet chiefly noteworthy for its undisguised devotion to himself

Notwithstanding the tendency of public opinion Gambetta would undoubtedly have remained in office for an indefinite period if he had abandoned the ill fated Scrutin de Liste But he made this idea the watchword of his ministerial policy and at once proposed a partial revision of the constitution incorporating his pet measure. The chamber showed its hostility by appointing a committee of revision avowedly opposed to the change in question. The Premier attempted to carry the bill by an eloquent address, which was, however, coldly received. He then favored limited revision, and the deputies with curious lack of consistency rejected the motion by a vote of 282 to 227.

Gambetta thereupon tendered his resignation to M Grevy, who after some delay called M. deFreycinet again to office. On the 26th of January, 1882, Scrutin de Liste came to a final vote and was defeated by an overwhelming majority—305 to 110. After this date Gambetta took no very active part in public life, although continuing to fulfil his duties as legislator.

The Democratic Central Committee of Ohio is about to be sued for a bill for torches used during the last campaign. The exposure of this matter has brought to light the fact that the committee owes everybody.

A Splendid Record.

A great many persons are for a purpose, trying to create an impression that only a small amount of the money paid for life insurance ever returns —that it is wasted in bad investments and extravagant management

The following figures will show how far from the truth this is, at least as regards one company —the Connecticut Mutual Life.

It has paid to policy holders or their legal representat ves from its organization to Jan 1, 1883, $03,868 685 24

It holds in trust, safely invested, to be paid to policy holders as their policies mature, $66,264 784 85

Total amount already paid and in hand to be paid to policy holders, 146 127 670 09

Total amount received by the company from policy holders, 123 203 818 44

Excess $22 923 851 65

The funds have been so safely and profitably invested that the interest alone has paid every dollar of up ase and earned $22 923 851 65 for the benefit of the insured —Y J Tribune.

The returns of votes for Governor at the last election were received from the Secretary of State and referred to a committee of six. The Senate will hold one session each day.

Organization of the House.

The members of the House assembled at 10 o'clock this morning at Representatives' Hall, and at once proceeded to draw for the session, at the close of which prayer was offered by Rev. John Allen. The roll call revealed 147 members present. After which, on the motion of Mr. Bowers of Houlton, a committee of eight was appointed to wait on the Governor and inform him that the members of the House were ready to receive the customary oath. At 1 35 the Governor and Council entered the room in the customary order. The oath was administered in the usual form. A committee of seven was appointed to receive, sort and count votes for the Speaker of the House. The vote, when announced resulted as follows

For the honor conferred, he made a graceful speech, giving thanks to the members, and announced himself as ready to receive and entertain business ready for presentation.

A committee of seven was appointed to receive, sort and count votes for clerk of the House. Of the whole number of votes Orlando Smith received 102 of the 131. A committee was appointed to receive, sort and count votes for Assistant Clerk. Of the votes cast Frank Patten had 131. Charles A. Getchell was elected Messenger, John W. Committees were joined to the Joint Committee appointed by the Senate. The House will have one session daily

General Caucus.

A caucus of both branches of the Legislature was held this evening in Representatives' Hall to nominate candidates for State officers and also a candidate for the United States Senate. The caucus was called to order by Senator Young, and Senator Boyd, of Sagadahoc, was called to preside.

Senator Frye Renominated

Hon. Nelson Cutler, of Penobscot, arose and said that among the first and most important duties of the caucus was the nomination of a U S Senator. Maine is second to no State in the Union in character of her representation in Congress and there should now be no lowering of the standard. We have a gentleman to present who is eminently qualified to be his own successor, and it gave him pleasure to nominate for that high office Hon. William Frye and Mr. Frye was nominated by acclamation, every member of the caucus rising.

Gen. Smith and Holbrook Renominated

On motion of Mr. Hale, of Portland, Joseph O. Smith was renominated by acclamation for Secretary of State. On motion of Senator Maxwell, of York, Hon. Edward Holbrook, of Freeport, was renominated by acclamation for State Treasurer.

Attorney General Cleaves Re-nominated.

Mr. Robinson, of Readfield, presented the name of Orville D. Baker, of Augusta, as a candidate for Attorney General Gen. Cilley, of Portland, presented the name of Henry Cleaves, of Portland, the present incumbent, for the same office. A committee of seven was raised to receive, sort and count votes for the Attorney General. The committee reported as follows:

Whole number votes cast, 133
Necessary for choice, 67
Orville D. Baker, 46
Henry B. Cleaves, 77
Geo. C. Wing, 10

Henry B. Cleaves was declared the nominee.

On motion of Mr. Robinson the nomination was made unanimous.

Adjutant General Beal Renominated.

Gen. Geo. L. Beal, of Norway, was renominated for Adjutant General.

The Executive Council.

The nomination of the members of the Executive Council was next in order. The different county delegates reported and the caucus made choice of the following men:

First District, John P. Swazy, of Calais.
Second, James A. Locke, of Portland.
Third, Wm. W. Bolster, of Auburn.
Fourth, Colby C. Cornish, of Winslow.
Fifth, A. T. Crockett, of Rockland.
Sixth, Silas C. Hatch, of Bangor.
Seventh, Nicholas Fessenden, of Fort Fairfield.

Fusion Caucus.

John Varney, of Bangor, was nominated as Attorney General, Elliott King, of Portland, Secretary of State, J. C. Levenseller, of Thomaston, State Treasurer, M. M. Folsom, of Oldtown, Adjutant General. A full list of Councillors was nominated.

XLVII CONGRESS—Second Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan 31 A communication was received transmitting a statement by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the amount that would be required to refund the taxes collected on stocks of tobacco, cigars, matches, etc, now on hand, in case of a reduction of the tax. Mr Hoar stated he would endeavor to call up the Presidential succession bill to-morrow. At the close of the morning hour Mr Logan continued his argument against the Fitz John Porter relief bill

At the conclusion of Mr Logan's speech Mr. Sewell replied briefly. Mr McPherson spoke in support of the bill, and was followed by Mr. Hawley, who said he intended to vote in accordance with the views presented by the Senator from Illinois (Mr Logan)

The bill was then reported to the Senate. Mr. Hoar moved to postpone further consideration one week He was requested to withdraw the motion but declined. After a debate Mr. Conger asked for a reading of the report of the Committees on the Porter case, and the Secretary began to read it. Mr. Sewell remarked that it was evident that Mr. Conger was determined to prevent a vote this evening, and he moved an adjournment which was agreed to.

House.

The House went into a Committee of the Whole on the Army Appropriation bill, the pending amendment being by Mr. Browne of Indiana, for the gradual abolition of the pay corps of the army; amendment adopted—111 to 36

Mr. Upson, of Texas, favored keeping the army up to a high degree of efficiency, but was opposed to many provisions of this bill In concluding his speech Mr Upson called attention to the high degree of efficiency of the English army. This brought Mr. Robinson, of New York, to his feet with a statement that he could not tell whether the gentleman in his speech was a eulogy of the American or English army. (Laughter.) He was alarmed at the spread of English feeling. The glory of the English drum beat was the sound of despotism and the death knell of liberty (Applause.)

Several amendments were offered, but after debate were all withdrawn and the original proviso in the bill stricken out by viva voce vote Mr. Hewett called attention to the fact that in various items of the bill there was a reduction in the appropriations. He took no stock in trying to make a record of economy which would make a deficiency appropriation in the future.

A long debate ensued, in which Mr. Hiscock charged that the Committee on Appropriation in the 46th Congress had intentionally thrown a large amount of deficiency upon the 47th Congress Mr Atkins, Chairman of that Committee, denied the assertion, which he deemed a slander upon the Committee. Messrs Calkins Randall, Robeson and Reed participated in the discussion The consideration of the bill was practically concluded and the Committee rose. The District Appropriation bill was reported and referred to the Committee of the Whole. Adjourned.

A REMARKABLE METEOR.

Seen at Sea from the Steamer Alaska

BOSTON, Jan 3 A letter received in this city from an officer of the United States steamer Alaska gives an account of a meteor which was seen from the ship on the evening of December 11 1882, a few minutes after sunset, in latitude 38 deg. 21 min., longitude 134 deg. 7 min. All at once a loud rushing noise was heard like that of a large rocket descending from the heavens with immense force and velocity.

It proved to be a meteor and when within ten degrees of the horizon it exploded with much noise and flame, the fragments streaming down into the ocean like great sparks and sprays of fire. The most wonderful part of the phenomenon then followed, for at the point in the heavens where the meteor burst there appeared a figure shaped like an immense distaff, all aglow with a bluish light of intense brilliancy.

It kept that form for perhaps two minutes, when it began to lengthen upward, and growing wavy and sizzy in outline, diminished in breadth until it became a fine, faint spiral line at its upper end, dissolving into gathering clouds. It remained for about ten minutes, when it began to fade and finally disappeared at eleven minutes past five o'clock.

The Newspaper Consolidation.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3. Murat Halstead says the new newspaper will be superior in many respects to either the Commercial or Gazette, and they cannot promise more, and combined they will certainly lack neither the spirit of independence nor principle of Republicanism.

RAILROAD MATTERS

An Engineer to be Tried for Manslaughter.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Jan. 3. Judge Rockwell finished his report of the inquest on the death of eight men in the railway accident on the Troy & Greenfield Railway some time since. Wattson's trial for manslaughter will occur at the next term of the Supreme Court, which begins Monday.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Gambetta's Death—Result of the Autopsy.

PARIS, Jan. 3. Telegrams of condolence which were received by the family of Gambetta include one from the American Consul at Lyons. The family have consented to a state funeral on condition that the body be eventually removed to Nice.

Fifteen professors and physicians performed the autopsy of the body of Gambetta. After it had been completed the embalming process was begun. The coffin is made of fir wood and is lined with white satin. It will be encased in a leaden casket festooned with the Tri-color flag, and the casket will be placed in an oaken coffin with silver mountings. The hall of the ground floor of Palace Bourgoun will be transformed into a chapel.

The French Government will devote 20,000 francs for the funeral of Gambetta. At an autopsy, to-day, the top of the head was removed and the brain extracted. The latter will be given to the Anthropological Society. The official report of the autopsy shows that there had been a long standing inflammation of the bowels, which led to a contraction of the small intestines, bringing about infiltration in the rear of the colon in the very walls of the abdomen.

Later.

The funeral of Gambetta has been postponed till Saturday morning.

The annual meeting of the Penobscot Agricultural Society was held at the Common Council room in City Hall yesterday forenoon. The meeting was called to order by the President, J E Bowden, of Orrington. The attendance was large and during the meeting the membership of the organization was increased by receiving several new members. The reports of the officers showed the society to be in a prosperous condition with about $125 in the treasury A vote of thanks was extended to the old officers, expression being taken by rising.

An election of officers was then held. Mr. Bowden, the President, announced he was not a candidate for re-election. The following were chosen:

President, J. E. Shaw.
Vice Presidents, J. O. Fifield, T. B George and Elisha Hill.
Secretary and Treasurer, B. A. Burr.
Trustees, J. E. Bennoch, E. H. Gregory, Hiram Ruggles, C. Copeland and C. H. Whitney.

Penobscot County Grange.

A correspondent writes: Penobscot County Grange met with Golden Rule Grange, North Newburg, Dec. 30th, 1882 Worthy Master Gregory presiding, and all other officers in their places. After the opening exercises a cordial address of welcome was tendered the grange by sister S B. Whitney, responded to by sister Dearborn, of Rising Star Grange. The forenoon was devoted to the usual routine of business, remarks, declamations, reading and music. At the announcement of dinner a recess was declared and they repaired to the dining room, where baked beans, brown bread, tea and coffee was served in abundance. At the appointed time the meeting was again called to order, with music by the choir, after which Worthy Master Gregory was presented with a revolving chair, and a small purse of money as a token of esteem for the able manner in which he had discharged his duties as Worthy Master. He was taken completely by surprise, but was not at a loss to find words to express his thanks for his nice present, and thus it is we often find bright spots in life when least expected. Our meeting was one of interest, joyous yet sad, joyous in meeting and greeting, and when we thought of our loss in the death of our Worthy Brother. Twenty-five were added to our membership The question was well discussed, and thanks tendered to Golden Rule for their kind reception, also to the choir for excellent music. By invitation, our next meeting will be with Eastern Star Grange, the fourth Saturday in January, 1883. Topic for discussion, "What can the county grange do towards reviving dormant granges?"

The following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

Whereas, Through the unavoidable ways of Providence we are again made aware how uncertain is life; be it

Resolved, That in the death of Brother A. J. Pollard, a member of Golden Harvest Grange, we, the members of Penobscot County Grange, have lost a worthy and esteemed member, one whose voice and influence we shall sadly miss and the memory of whom we shall ever revere and respect.

Resolved, That while we extend our heartfelt sympathies to the members of Golden Harvest, to the family of our deceased brother and to his friends generally, being aware that we can truly sympathize with them in their sad affliction.

Resolved, That while extending our sympathies to the family we would be worth them to place their trust in the Great Master above, who has said, "I will be a friend to the widow and a father to the fatherless.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family; also a copy to the WHIG AND COURIER for publication.

PROF. SEWALL'S LECTURE.

The Religious Development of England.

Undismayed by the cold storm, making the afternoon one of the most uncomfortable of the season, a large number of ladies assembled yesterday afternoon to hear Prof. Sewall's fifth lecture on "The Religious Development of England."

In considering this subject we think at once of the cathedrals of England, twenty-eight in number including four in Wales, with their Bishops constituting one of the Estates of the Realm having part in the Government, and ranking even the nobility. Of the 31,000,000 English population about 7,000,000 belong to the established church, 3,000,000 are Catholics, all other sects 21,000,000 Scotland has 4,000,000, about half belong to the established church which is Presbyterian. Ireland with its 5,000,000 is mainly Catholic, there being no established church.

There was a time when England was Catholic and there was a more ancient British church. This was annihilated by the Saxons. Is there any link connecting the two and so the religion of the present? Glastonbury Abbey is regarded as such a link. Situated in South Western England, around it cluster many of the most interesting historic events and traditions of the past Here, near Alfred's fastness, was the first church ever built in England. The church was taken by the Saxons after they were interested in Christianity, and adopted instead of destroying it, and constitutes a link from very ancient to modern times.

Saxon England was converted by missionaries from two directions; Ireland, previously converted, and Rome, the former making Nothumbria their centre—the later Canterbury. The immediate effect was the immense elevation of the moral character of the Saxons. It reconnected England with the world from which it had been separated by the piracy of its inhabitants. It fused the nation giving a common faith and interest It elevated family and home, set in motion the forces of civilization, cultivated all that is worth preserving in Saxon character as reverence for the Supreme Being, justice honor, purity, energy, pluck, resolution, capacity for mental and moral growth and transformed heathen temples into Christian churches

What was the form of this ancient Christianity? Was it Catholic? Remember the sources of missionary labor north and south. Britain was insular, self-reliant, of Gothic race, Teutons, with great appetite for freedom, yet many of the clergy came from Rome, acknowledged authority and believed in Rome. The power of the Roman church, the early church, was highly beneficent, the pageantry educating and elevating its saints. It laid a restraining hand on despotic kings who dreaded its interdict. There was a struggle of centuries not personal but national, inherent between the Papal power and refractory England. Had England been without this restraint, at the mercy of any ruler, whatever his character, the result might have been to quench the church. Had the Pope prevailed there would have been a divided sovereignty, a king in England, a mightier king in Rome. The conflict became not wholly religious but political, for civil liberty. Wickliff, John Knox, Erasmus and Tyndal promoted civil as much as political liberty. Henry 8th cared little for doctrines if he might but marry and unmarry as he pleased, but he was politician enough to insist that the clergy should be men of morality, and sanctioned the spread of the Bible among the people, since which time England has been Protestant.

The growth of Christianity since that time has been along these lines: Persecution under Mary, rise of Puritanism, Elizabeth's law to suppress dissent, massacre of St. Bartholomew in France, opposition to Spanish Armada, Puritan triumph in execution of Charles 1st and Commonwealth, tyrannical act of uniformity followed by act of indulgence setting free from prison 12,000 Quakers among others John Bun

Rev. Father Wilds'

EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. T. F. Wilds, well known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent lawyer Wilds, of the Penobscot Bar, writes to us:

T. F. Wilds & Son Yard, May 8, 1882

Messrs. J. C. Ayer & Co., Gentlemen

Last winter I was troubled with a most unconfort able stubborn cough, affecting more especially my throat, which I could not relieve day or night. It became so intensely that I could scarcely hear my own voice, and was very weak. Knowing your Cherry Pectoral as a specific for colds, coughs and catarrhal coughs, my appetite was gone and my system broken down, I commenced using the Wild Cherry Bitters, a newspaper published in Bangor, Me., and continued successively in The Bangor Weekly Courier, a newspaper published in Bangor, in said County, that they may appear at a Court of Probate for said County, to be held at the Probate Office in said Bangor, on the last Tuesday in December next, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, and show cause, if any they have, why the same should not be proved, approved and allowed as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot:

The undersigned, Guardian of Arthur S. Board man, minor heir of Benjamin F. Boardman, late of Bangor, in said County deceased, respectfully represents that said minor is seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz: One half part in common and undivided of the late homestead of said Benjamin F. Boardman, situate on Court street in said Bangor, being the lot and buildings thereon, and being the interest of said minor, which described to him as her at law of said deceased, subject to the widow's right of Dower therein, it being likewise described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds for said County of Penobscot. It would be for the benefit of said minor that said Real Estate should be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or otherwise used for the benefit of the ward. She therefore prays that license may be granted her to sell and convey said Real Estate, subject to Dower, at public or private sale, according to the requirement of law.
